WHY SHOULD WE BE CONCERNED?

Shortages in Special Education have been with us forever, but now they are reaching crisis proportions.
WHAT THE DATA TELLS US

• 48 states and the District of Columbia report shortages of special education teachers
• 42 states report shortages of early intervention providers

• Council for Exceptional Children Issue Brief (2018)
EQUITY ISSUES!
SOME STUDENTS ARE IMPACTED MORE THAN OTHERS

• Shortages of special educators from diverse backgrounds are the most dramatic
• Students served in special schools are more likely to have less prepared teachers

• Fall & Billingsley, 2011; Mason-Williams, Gagnon, & Bettini, 2017
ADDITIONALLY. . .

• The supply of teachers is dwindling
NEW TEACHER PIPELINE IS SHRINKING

• Enrollment in teacher preparation has declined dramatically

• Decline of 35 percent over the last five years

• Council for Exceptional Children (2018); Dewey et al., in press
STATE RESPONSES TO SHORTAGES

• Oklahoma and California have issued more emergency certificates
• Arizona, Illinois, and Minnesota have lowered certification standards
• Arizona gave local school administrators the power to determine teacher certification
• New York has allowed charter schools to certify their own teachers with less rigorous preparation

PROBLEM WITH SHORT TERM SOLUTIONS

• They exacerbate quantity and quality shortages; creating a revolving door

• Boe, Cook, & Sunderland, 2006; Feng & Sass, 2013; Ingersoll, Merrill, & May, 2014; Miller, Brownell
THE CHALLENGE

☑ Districts are left with few choices. They have to hire teachers that have little preparation to teach and no classroom experience

☑ Students most impacted are those already most disadvantaged
WHAT SHOULD WE DO?
SOLUTIONS

• Desirable solutions for teacher shortages cannot be accomplished in the short-term.

• Comprehensive approaches that combine pathways programs, recruitment and supportive preparation are more effective and needed.
EDUCATOR TALENT MANAGEMENT

✓ Need a talent management framework
✓ Looks across the career continuum
✓ Considers unique contexts
✓ Clarifies partner roles

SOLUTIONS

• Policy changes and implementation, however, take time!

• Reality is that schools rely on “fast-track” and emergency certified teachers.
CEEDAR AND GTL CENTER TOOLS

• Combining short term solutions with long term strategies!

DATA TOOL: SPECIAL EDUCATOR SHORTAGES AND OPPORTUNITY GAPS

• Assess where special education shortages are corresponding with the greatest “opportunity gaps” for students with disabilities (as identified by the state’s ESSA accountability metrics).

• Targeted on the schools and students that need the most help.

• Strategies tailored toward local contexts and evaluated based upon impact where needed the most.

Phase I: Short-Term Strategies

- Just-in-time assistance to schools and districts forced to use less-than-fully-prepared teachers in classrooms.

Note: Districts must concurrently provide intensive support to these educators to get them prepared, while laying the foundation for longer-term solutions.

Phase II: Long-Term Solutions

- Systemic approaches that are specific to local contexts without compromising quality.
- Facilitate strong networks with shared ownership, collective action, and joint accountability.
- No two shortages are created equal. Strategies must address local context and needs.
- Shortages can be addressed at any point along the educator career continuum.
Strengthen collaborations across states, districts, and educator preparation programs by investing in local mentoring and induction programs that reinforce the content and skills that all teachers and leaders need to serve students with disabilities.

“A set of practices that are fundamental to support K-12 student learning, and that can be taught, learned, and implemented by those entering the profession.”
